JOINT CAMPAIGN TO TACKLE UNDERAGE DRINKING AND VIOLENCE – COMMUNITY SERVICES POSTER PROMOTION

The harsh realities of alcohol-related violence and underage drinking were the focus of two community campaigns that were rolled out in Wagga Wagga in 2016.

The "One Punch Can Kill" and "Rethink That Sneaky Drink" campaigns focused on consequences of people's actions when under the influence of alcohol, and reinforced the city's no-tolerance approach to alcohol-fueled violence and defiance of the law.

Both campaigns have a strong youth focus, aged 13 to 25 years, and are about educating the community to think about their decisions and behaviours. The take-home message is think before you drink as there can be real life-changing consequences," Director Environmental and Community Services Janice Summerhayes said.

The "One Punch Can Kill" campaign highlighted that a split-second decision could result in a jail sentence for a minimum of eight years. "Rethink That Sneaky Drink" reinforced Wagga Wagga's blanket rule of being caught underage drinking at any pub, club or restaurant, means you'll be barred from entering a licensed premises in the city until your 19th birthday.

Campaign posters were put up at five bus stops across the city and supplied to pubs and clubs. High schools were also approached to help spread the message. Wagga Wagga Local Area Command Licensing Supervisor Sergeant Nigel Tunney said a united front by local liquor accord, licensees, police and other key stakeholders helped with a general decline in alcohol-related problems in Wagga.

The campaigns were initiatives of the City of Wagga Wagga and had the backing of the Wagga Wagga Liquor Accord, The Australian Hotels Association NSW Sub Branch and the NSW Police Wagga Wagga Local Area Command.

FUNDING BOOST FOR CRIME PREVENTION – FUNDING TO NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH AND POLICE

Building a more vigilant, safer community has been made easier for Wagga's Neighbourhood Watch after securing funding through Council's Annual Grants Program.

The community crime prevention group was officially presented a cheque for $3000 from former Mayor Cr Rod Kendall and Wagga Wagga Local Area Command Superintendent Bob Noble and Detective Inspector Darren Clarke.

Neighbourhood Watch said that they would use the funding to purchase a branded marquee for events, branded uniforms and print brochures to increase their exposure across the city. "Crime can sometimes go unreported for a variety of reasons, people aren't sure how to report or are worried of the consequences of reporting."

Wagga Wagga Neighbourhood Watch president David Abbott said, "Neighbourhood Watch helps improve communication between the local police and the community. Providing quality information can assist the police to improve and maintain levels of personal safety and household security."

The objective of the Neighbourhood Watch program was to deliver an increase in social health and wellbeing by encouraging neighbours to communicate regularly and promote crime prevention strategies to reduce the fear of crime. The program aim is to help feel safe at home and in public places.

Wagga Wagga Neighbourhood Watch was one of 13 successful applicants in the 2015/16 City of Wagga Wagga's Annual Grants Program.

"There's something else we could have done to speed up the process, because we're a couple of days away from closing for Christmas, it's not the time we want to deal with that sort of thing." Audit New Zealand representative Dereck Ollison said this year was extraordinary due to the lack of auditors, and they had to prioritize the work. The Invercargill City Council recorded a surplus of $4.3 million for fiscal year 2020-2021, although much of this is due to the sale of some businesses. They want our audience.
