Regular class necropes of class VIII people who preferentially have sex with the dead. Class homicide necrosadists IX Necrosadisti, [22] who kill someone to have sex with the victim. Exclusive class x class necrophils who have an exclusive interest in sex with the dead and cannot perform at all for a living partner. In addition, the type of criminologist Lee Mellor of the murderous necrophiliacs is made up of eight categories (to the A tow € œH) and is based on the combination of two behavioral axes: destructive (offensive the corpse mutilates for sexual reasons) aã ,ã € œ CONDUCTIVATIVES (offender does not do it.) and cold (the culprit used the body sexually two hours or more after death) - hot (the culprit used the corpse sexually less than two hours after death.) [23] Cúe makes four categories (A-D) to which Mellor adds four more (E-H): category A (cold/destructive), e.g. Ted Bundy, Jeffrey Dahmer category B (cold/preservative), e.g. Gary Ridgway, Dennis Nilsen, Carl Tanzler category C (hot/destructive) e.g. I would go chikatio, Joseph Vacher category D (hot/preservative) e.g. Robert Yates, Earle Nelson Category E (Dabblers) e.g. Richard Ramirez, Mark Dixie Category F (Cat/Timic "ã € ávolov" a € ávelop impulsively and explosively launching) category G (exclusive necromutilofiles) as e.g. Robert Napper, Peter Sutcliffe category H (canni and sexual vampires) e.g. Albert Fish, Peter Kä E Ánarsten [23] Dabblers have opportunistic sexual relationships with corpses, but they don't prefer them. The catatimal necrophiliacs commit post mortem sex only while they are in a sudden impulsive state. Exclusive necromutilophiloes draw purely mutly mutilating the corpse, while the canni and sexual vampires have sexually aroused by eating parts of the human body. Category A transgressors, C and F can also or drink the blood of their victims. Compensation for a fear of women Belief that sex with a living woman is a mortal sin Need to achieve a feeling of total control over a sexual partner Compliance with a command hallucination Performance of a series of destructive acts Expression of polymorphous perverse sexual desires Need to perform limitless sexual activity[26] IQ data was limited, but not abnormally low. About half of the sample had a personality disorder, and 11% of true necrophiliacs were psychotic. Rosman and Resnick concluded that their data challenged the conventional view of necrophiliacs as generally psychotic, mentally deficient, or unable to obtain a consenting partner.[25] Other animals A male black and white tegu mounts a female that has been dead for two days and attempts to mate.[28] See also: Non-reproductive sexual behaviour in animals Necrophilia has been observed in mammals, birds, reptiles and frogs.[29] In 1960, Robert Dickerman described necrophilia in ground squirrels, which he termed "Davian behaviour" in reference to a limerick about a necrophiliac miner named Dave. The label is still used for necrophilia in animals.[30] Copulation with a dead female pilot whale by a captive male pilot whale has been observed.[39] and possible sexual behaviour between two male humpback whales, one dead, has also been reported.[40] In 1983, a male rock dove was observed to be copulating with her carcass. Several months later, the same sea otter was again observed copulating with the carcass of a different female.[38] Copulation with a dead female pilot whale by a captive male pilot whale away while holding it.[37] A male sea otter was observed holding a female sea otter underwater until she drowned before repeatedly copulating with her carcass. Several months later, the same sea otter was again observed copulating with the carcass of a different female.[38] Copulation with a dead female pilot whale by a captive male pilot whale Eillicrepac nretsow DNA esuroy kcalb that neevoteb dirthyh elam dewohts Troms noisivelet was nagewron that 54].esooq, eht dna J43].kral broraps ,kral-worraps dekaeae ʼ.
