If your thread is not running directly in the application, then it's not supported by native android codecs, so you'll need to use an external app (check remote commands below). Important 1! To play videos from a video playlist, you need to install one of the media players available on Google Play. Some examples are VLC, MX Player, etc. You can also use it as an external player for your streams. Important 2! The Android version of the app is still very early in development, so it still doesn't have all the features available in the app on other TV platforms. All these features will be added gradually. Upload your playlist The app doesn't have any channels, it's just a tool to watch IPTV streams. You can upload your IPTV playlist by following the instructions in the playlist upload section.
